

THE SESSION WEEKLY

MINNESOTA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
VOLUME 2, NUMBER 19 MAY 17, 1985

HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations bills

In its final meeting for the 1985 legislative session, the Appropriations Committee recommended three major bills to pass. They amended and approved a $59 million sewage treatment plan, HF849 (Valento, IR-Little Canada), the Combined Sewer Overflow (CSO) bill, that gets its funding from a six-cents-a-pack cigarette tax.

The plan would help fund waste water and sewage treatment plants, statewide. In its original form, HF849 authorized 15-year loans to cities with fewer than 75 percent separated sewers. The amended version extends loan eligibility to include the city of South St. Paul.

The committee also approved the Fish and Wildlife Enhancement Act of 1985, HF628 (Rose, IR-Roseville). The bill would set aside $25 million for setting aside eroding crop lands and managing Minnesota's wildlife habitat. Fifteen of the $25 million would come from the unused portion of the farm interest loan buydown the Legislature passed in February of this year.

The third bill to move out of the committee is the Saturn plant bill, HF1645 (Beard, DFL-Cottage Grove). The bill would create a special enterprise zone if General Motors (GM) locates the Saturn plant in Minnesota. The offer would grant $75 million in tax breaks and development funds to GM.

Mark Dayton, commissioner of energy and development, says this kind of offer is necessary to attract GM and that the state will be the winner in the long run. Dayton also says the state is ready to extend the same sort of offer to other manufacturing companies if they choose to expand in Minnesota.

All three bills now go to the House floor.

Cigarette taxes

State taxes on cigarettes could be funding a variety of projects in Minnesota this year.

On May 16, the Appropriations Committee recommended to pass HF849 (Valento, IR-Little Canada), the Combined Sewer Overflow (CSO) bill. HF849 carries a provision taxing cigarettes six cents a pack to fund sewer reconstruction and other projects.

On May 15, the committee also recommended to pass HF810 (Quist, IR-St. Peter), a bill that would put a one-cent tax on each pack of cigarettes to fund a non-smoking program in Minnesota schools.

Some of the money would also go to the health department to help enforce the Minnesota clean indoor air act.

The bill could raise as much as $10 million, twice the cost of the $5 million needed for the non-smoking program and enforcement aid for the indoor air act. That extra $5 million caught the attention of the budget-conscious committee members at a May 14 meeting.

They attached amendments to target $500,000 to a mosquito control program and $3 million to programs for handicapped preschool children. But on the 15th, the committee reconsidered and removed those amendments.

Combined Sewer Overflow

The Combined Sewer Overflow (CSO) bill, HF849 (Valento, IR-Little Canada), came out of the Appropriations Committee, May 16, with a recommendation to pass.

The bill would call for a six-cents-a-pack cigarette tax, four cents of which would go to the state water pollution control fund. Money from this fund would make up grants or loans to cities for sewage control projects.

At a May 10 hearing on the bill, legislators heard opposition to the grants and loans provision from Maureen Warren of the St. Paul mayor's office and Bill Barnhart of the Minneapolis coordinator's office. They objected to allowing interest-bearing loans for Twin Cities projects but interest-free grants for outstate projects — a policy they they said was "discriminatory."

Rep. Don Valento, the bill's author, says the loan program will benefit the whole state, maintain the money pool, and keep the program alive.

Sales tax on used cars

Buyers of used cars would get a sales tax break under HF130 (Minne, DFL-Hibbing), a bill the House passed May 15.

The bill would repeal the six percent sales tax on used cars 10 years and older. Buyers would instead pay a flat $10 fee. HF130 would exempt classic and pioneer cars, and people who buy those cars would continue to pay the six percent sales tax.

"I know many of you, as I have, have heard complaints about paying taxes over and over again on the same vehicle," author Rep. Lona Minne told House members.

People have had problems determining and arguing the value of these older used cars with registrars, Minne said. "It's been a source of irritation for both registrars and purchasers and the revenue impact is minimal," she said.

The bill goes next to the Senate.

Underground development

Lack of space has always been a problem in crowded urban areas. But development of underground space could be part of the solution, says Rep. Sidney Pauly (IR-Eden Prairie).

"We have technology to create a whole, new basement in this state," says Pauly, author of HF922/SF925.

During discussion of the bill at the May 15 House session, Pauly exhibited a sample of soft St. Peter sandstone to House members. She says this stone, a formation of soil and glacial drift deposit, forms a unique subsurface under Minnesota's prairies, woodlands, lakes, and hills.

HF922/SF925 would authorize development of this subsurface which Pauly says would allow for dust and vibration-free, naturally secure space for development of industry, commerce, and transit.

The state would retain all mineral rights of developed underground territory under the bill. Municipalities would get bonding authority and the power to develop underground space.

An amendment to the bill would prohibit use of underground development for hazardous and high-level nuclear waste. The bill passed on a 113-0 vote.

Guns, superfund bills

The cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul could no longer have stricter gun laws than the rest of the state if the governor signs legislation now on its way to his desk. Similar legislation died last year with a governor's veto.

While other legislation is also moving through the House and Senate to the governor, bills affecting the superfund law have come to a standstill.

Both House and Senate have approved bills to compensate victims of hazardous waste releases, but the bills aren't the same. And neither body has appointed members to a conference committee to come to an agreement. Without that agreement, the victims' compensation measure, HF876 (Olsen S., IR-St. Louis Park), won't get to the governor nor the law books.

Proposals that attempt to make the superfund law more palatable to Minnesota businesses have had the approval of the full House for some time. But the Senate's waiting for a conference committee to come up with a victims' compensation plan before acting on superfund changes in HF268 (Sviggum, IR-Kenyon).

THE SESSION WEEKLY

MINNESOTA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The Session Weekly is a publication of the Minnesota House of Representatives Public Information Office. During the 1985 Legislative Session, each issue reports daily House action from Thursday (2 p.m.) to Thursday (2 p.m.), lists bill introductions and advance committee schedules, and provides other information. The publication is free to interested constituents. Contact: Minnesota House of Representatives Public Information Office, Room 9, State Capitol, St. Paul, MN 55155, (612) 296-2146.

andatory seat belt bill that would require Minnesota motorists to buckle up, made a motion in the May 15 session of the House to table the measure, after a motion for reconsideration. Her action makes it possible for the House to take up the bill again before the scheduled end of the session, May 20.

In the House May 10 session, the bill met defeat on a vote of 61 for and 70 against, the second time in two years the House has rejected seat belt legislation. And the second time the Senate has supported it.

The bill does not include penalties. It would apply to all front-seat occupants and riders under age 11 (in any seat) and exempt about six different groups of people from the belt requirement. Violators would receive a safety warning that wouldn't go on their driving records.

Attempts to put penalty provisions in the bill failed. And passage of HF119/SF40* would make Minnesota the first state in the Union to pass a seat belt law without penalties for violations.

Drinking age 21

A House and Senate conference committee agreed, May 15, to raise the state's drinking age to 21 in 1986, if Iowa and Wisconsin raise theirs, and Congress doesn't repeal the federal mandate.

The federal mandate requires states to increase the age or lose some federal highway aid. For Minnesota, that would be a loss of about $33 million over the next two years.

Right now, laws in Minnesota, Iowa, and Wisconsin provide for a 19 drinking age for all alcoholic beverages. North Dakota's age is 21 and South Dakota has a combined age of 21 for distilled spirits and 19 for beer and wine. Expectations are that the Iowa Legislature, which recently refused to take action on the drinking age, will pass a "21 bill" in their '86 legislative sessions. Wisconsin remains questionable.

Rep. Gary Schafer (IR-Gibbon), is the author of SF5, the 21 bill, which will now go back to both the House and Senate for repassage.

Out-of-business sales

Anyone falsely representing a sale as a going-out-of-business event could be in trouble with the law if HF988/SF800* (Becklin, IR-Cambridge), becomes law.

The bill, which passed in the House May 15, would make it illegal for anyone to represent a sale as "going-out-of-business" if advertising for the sale runs longer than 120 days; if a retailer orders an unusual amount of merchandise shortly before the sale or during sale days—a practice known as stuffing sales; if the sale continues after the advertised ending date; or the retailer has held a going-out-of-business sale at the same location during the preceding 120 days.

An amendment to the bill would require real estate brokers or salespersons to tell all parties of a real estate transaction which party they represent.

The bill goes next to the governor.

Psychotherapy, hit-run

Two bills the Crime and Family Law Committee recommended to pass in recent weeks won the approval of the full House May 14. They are proposals concerned with conduct of psychotherapists and penalties for hit-run offenses.

One bill, HF1227 (Bishop, IR-Rochester), would prohibit psychotherapists from engaging in sexual acts with their patients. Psychotherapists would be guilty of criminal sexual conduct if they have sex with a patient during a session, even if the patient consents; if the patient, or former patient, is emotionally dependent on the therapist and unable to say "no"; or if the therapist represents sex as part of the patient's treatment.

The other bill, SF33 (Hartinger, IR-Coon Rapids), would impose criminal penalties on drivers involved in hit and run accidents. The bill would base the penalties on the degree of harm the accident caused and whether the driver was at fault.

The bill would increase the penalty for causing an accident that results in death to seven years and/or $14,000. And it would establish a penalty for causing an accident that results in great bodily harm.

HF1227 is waiting for Senate approval, and SF33 has now passed both Houses.

Stun guns

On May 9, House members amended stun-gun legislation into SF693 (Bishop, IR-Rochester), a bill that deals with forfeiture of property used in a crime.

Minnesota doesn't have laws on the books now that regulate the use of stun guns. However, the city of St. Paul has an ordinance banning them. The Legislation the House passed on the 9th, would allow possession and use of stun guns in defense of person or property.

Author of the proposal, Rep. Joel Jacobs (DFL-Coon Rapids), says the stun-gun legislation relates to what is already in state statute regarding the use of mace.

"It regulates mace and will regulate stun guns in an identical manner. What we're attempting to do is allow the public to have stun guns. But we want to reassure that they're used properly . . . in defense of a person," said Jacobs.

The bill would prohibit possession and use by people under 18 years old, people convicted of a violent crime or drug offense, and those who are mentally ill or chemically dependent.

Use of stun guns against police officers would carry a five-year felony penalty, and sale of the gun to anyone the law prohibits from its possession or use would be illegal.

Though some members opposed the legislation, arguing that research isn't complete and not enough knowledge exists on the gun's effects, and others objected to what they termed, "ready public access to a weapon," the bill passed 94 to 28.

The Senate also passed the bill, so it goes next to the governor.

Correction

In the highlight, Title 19 waiver, on page 1 of last week's Session Weekly, Rep. Wes Skoglund (DFL-Mpls) is the author of the amendment to the human services appropriations omnibus bill, HF1640/SF1525*, that would permit doctors to remove the brains of deceased general assistance recipients who may have had Alzheimer's disease. St. Paul Ramsey Medical Center would use the brains for study of the disease.
