DIRECTORY OF MINNESOTA ORGANIC FARMS

THE MINNESOTA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE developed this directory to benefit organic farmers and buyers in Minnesota.

ARE YOU A FARMER? Use it to:

- Assess production and market opportunities, as well as areas of saturation. If you see that every other organic farmer in your area is producing barley, you may decide to differentiate by planting a different small grain instead. Or, if no one else in the area is growing organic dry beans, or sunflowers, for example, this situation might merit further investigation.
- Seek out advice and assistance (e.g., If you are interested in flax production, you might contact individuals who have listed themselves as organic flax growers).
- Form production and/or marketing alliances. For example, a grower may discover that four other growers within a 100-mile radius are planting organic blue corn. These growers may want to get together and negotiate as a group with buyers or shippers.

Please note, this directory is intended for farms that sell to each other and to processors, traders, retailers, chefs, and other intermediate or large-scale buyers. If you are seeking organic or other local products for home use, try the Minnesota Grown Directory at www.minnesotagrown.com

ARE YOU A BUYER? Use it to:

- Identify and contact farmers already growing a commodity they want to buy.
- Find groups of farmers that farm in a certain county or region.
- Contact farmers about potential production contracts.

We also want this directory to help agricultural professionals – including extension educators, department of agriculture staff and others – identify areas of the state that have clusters of organic growers who may need technical assistance or services.

NOTE: This is a voluntary directory that lists 201 of the estimated 560 organic farms in the state. No farm was listed without its permission.

An electronic version of the directory is available at www.mda.state.mn.us/food/organic

ABOUT THE MINNESOTA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Our mission is to enhance Minnesotans' quality of life by ensuring the integrity of our food supply, the health of our environment, and the strength of our agricultural economy. The Minnesota Department of Agriculture (MDA) has existed in one form or another for more than 100 years. During that time, the state has changed from a mostly rural society with an economy based on agriculture and mining to a multifaceted state dominated by a world-class metropolitan area. As the state has changed, so has our department.

Our three general areas of responsibility include:

- Protecting our food supply
- Protecting our natural resources
- Cultivating our agricultural economy

MDA services start before the crop even goes into the ground. We help ensure that farmers have quality seed, fertilizer, pesticides and animal feed so that the final product is also high quality. The MDA also provides risk-management education, organic and sustainable ag technical support, dairy and livestock development support, and other services designed to help farmers succeed.

We continue our service after the plants and animals leave the farm. We perform duties such as dairy and food processing facility inspections and international market development. At the consumer level, we provide services such as consumer food safety education, ag chemical spill response, and grocery store inspections.

In addition to this Directory, the MDA's serves the organic sector with the following:

- Information about organic production and certification
- Educational opportunities like field days, short courses, and workshops
- A list of USDA-accredited certifiers that operate in Minnesota
- Minnesota Organic Conference (held in January)
- Organic certification cost share assistance
- Organic processing fact sheets (food, livestock feed, meat and poultry)
- Sustainable agriculture demonstration grants and low-interest loans

In Minnesota, it is legal for brokers, buyers, and commercial food establishments (including restaurants, caterers, schools, food service, institutions, daycares, grocery stores, food markets, bakeries, etc.) to buy directly from farmers. For information about the requirements regarding direct sales by/from farmers, see the following or call the MDA Dairy and Food Division at 651-201-6027.

Commercial buyers and brokers who purchase livestock, grain, and produce (including fresh fruits and vegetables, dairy products, poultry, and eggs) directly from farmers in Minnesota must be licensed and bonded. This measure exists to protect the interests of farmers. Learn more at: www.mda.state.mn.us/licensing/amslicenses.htm Or call the MDA Marketing Services Division at 651-201-6157.
