

LEGISLATIVE COORDINATING COMMISSION
Office on the Economic Status of Women
Minnesota Legislative Session Summary 2007

This report highlights and summarizes selected legislative changes related to the economic status of women in Minnesota. In addition to the funding and policy bills highlighted here, three policy bills followed by the OESW did not pass this session, and will likely be addressed in upcoming debates.

Policy that extended health care benefits to domestic partners of state employees was in the original State Government Omnibus bill vetoed by the Governor. The section was not included in the bill that he later signed.

A second provision in the original State Government Omnibus bill required companies of a certain profile with large state contracts to participate in a pay equity reporting process similar to the one currently followed by the State of Minnesota and local governments. This provision was also not included in the omnibus bill signed by the governor.

A bill to regulate international marriage brokers who do business in Minnesota was not heard in committee. This issue is an extension of human trafficking work the OESW has been involved with in the past few years.

Providers who enter into an SRSA must comply with assessment and reporting requirements.

One-Time Visit with Unlicensed Providers Report
