Introduction

The 2015 Minnesota Legislature enacted the Teacher Shortage Loan Forgiveness Program, effective August 1, 2015, Minnesota Statutes 136A.1791. The Minnesota Office of Higher Education (OHE) was tasked with establishing rules and administering the program. The Office decided to refer to the program as the Teacher Shortage Loan Repayment Program (TSLRP) to better align the program's name to its design. The program is designed to provide student loan debt relief, in the form of repayment awards, to teachers working in shortage areas identified by the Commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Education (MDE) using data collected for the "Teacher Supply and Demand Report." The loan repayment program was created as an incentive to encourage qualified licensed teachers to work in identified teacher shortage area classrooms and to reduce the number of school districts that are unable to hire fully licensed teachers in particular license fields.

OHE is required to submit an annual report by February 1 to the chairs of the K-12 and higher education committees of the legislature. The report must include (1) number of individuals who received loan forgiveness, (2) licensure areas and economic development regions in which the teachers taught, (3) average amount paid to a teacher participating in the program, and (4) other summary data identified by the commissioner as outcome indicators. Currently, 2015/16 awards are still be calculated and rules have not been adopted; therefore, only general information about these elements will be provided as of January 31, 2017.

Financial Summary

Minnesota Statutes 136A.1791 Subdivision 8 established a fund for this program making an appropriation to the fund “continuously available” for loan repayment awards. During the 2015 legislative session, TSLRP received an initial appropriation for repayment awards of $388,000 for the 2016-2017 biennium. In addition, $194,000 per year for awards was included in the budget tails for fiscal years 2018 and 2019. During the 2016 legislative session, an additional one-time appropriation of $1.94 million was made to the fund. When making the appropriation, the Legislature indicated the funds were available until FY 2019. As a result, a total of $2.328 million is currently available in the fund. OHE has not yet made awards or issued payments to eligible applicants due to not having adopted permanent rules.

Rulemaking

On November 21, 2016, OHE began requesting comments on Notice of Intent to Adopt Rules without a Public Hearing governing TSLRP. The rules clarify the criteria set in statute for maximum loan amounts, eligible participants and adds criteria on how awards will be prioritized. The rules will improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the program and reconcile the difference between the MDE’s “Teacher Supply and Demand Report” and annual loan repayment awards. The public comment period on these rules ended at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, January 6, 2017. The Notice of Adoption of permanent rules is set to be published in the State Register February 2017.

Shortage Areas

The Office requests MDE to identify teacher shortage areas on an annual basis for the purposes of administering this program. However, the data MDE uses to identify shortage areas may not be collected annually because the MDE “Teacher Supply and Demand Report” is only produced every two years. Teacher shortage areas are either a license field or an economic development region within the state that is identified by MDE as experiencing a teacher shortage.

Applicants are eligible to apply for TSLRP if the teacher is:

- Providing classroom instruction in a designated license field teacher shortage area anywhere in the state; OR
- Providing classroom instruction in any license field in an Economic Development Region identified as having a teacher shortage area; OR
- Providing classroom instruction in a designated license field teacher shortage within the Economic Development Region in which they teach.

Applicants must be currently fully-licensed (e.g. not teaching under a Special Permission or Variance) in the license field(s) in which they are providing classroom instruction.

For fiscal year 2016 (2015-2016 award year) the teacher shortage areas identified by MDE are:

Application and Award Process

A TSLRP applicant may receive a maximum of $1,000 per year, not to exceed the balance of the applicant’s qualified educational loans, including principal and interest. An applicant may receive a lifetime maximum of five awards. Due to insufficient funding to award all eligible applicants, the following elements are used to prioritize the awards to eligible applicants:

- A. Financial need of an applicant, considering the applicant’s income (without regard to spousal income, if applicable), household size, and total qualified educational loan
- B. Previous awards to the applicant from TSLRP
- C. Whether the applicant is employed in an economic development region that is a teacher shortage area
- D. Whether the applicant is employed in a teacher shortage area within the applicant’s economic development region
- E. Whether the applicant is employed in a statewide teacher shortage area
- F. Statewide distribution of funds

OHE assumed it was likely more applications from eligible teachers would be received than there was available funding. This is why prioritization of awards when there are insufficient funds to provide an award to all eligible applicants was addressed in the soon to be adopted rules.

Applicants

To be an eligible applicant, an individual must:

- A. Hold a teaching license issued by the licensing division in the Minnesota Department of Education on behalf of the Board of Teaching;

- B. Be employed by a school district to provide classroom instruction in a teacher shortage area;
- C. Not have received five annual awards from this program;
- D. Provide a completed application;
- E. Have outstanding qualified educational loan debt;
- F. Not submit false or misleading information on any application to this program; and
- G. Provide verification of the application of previously awarded funds toward eligible qualified educational loans, if the applicant has previously received an award.

Application

An initial application was made available online from May 26, 2016 to June 30, 2016. The application contained minimum qualification data points:

- A. Biographic Information
- B. Teaching License and Assignment
- C. School District
- D. Applicant’s 2015 Adjusted Gross Income for
- E. Number of 2015 Exemptions Claimed
- F. Student Loan Default Status
- G. Total Amount of Qualified Educational Debt

OHE received a total of 2,932 initial applications of which 100 were determined as ineligible due to not meeting the minimum qualifications. The remaining 2,832 applications were categorized by Economic Development Region and 1,097 high-need (using the prioritization elements described earlier) applications were selected consistently among regions for further review. Applicants were notified via email in early July to submit documents to complete their applications to OHE by August 31, 2016. Those documents included:

- A. Application Data Verification Form
- B. Employment Verification Form (completed by school or school district representative)
- C. Verification of Qualified Educational Loans (statements from lenders and servicers)
- D. Verification of Income and Household Size (2015 federal tax forms)

The table below represents the number of eligible initial applicants and applications selected for further review per economic development region:

Awards

Based on the number of applications from eligible teachers received in spring 2016, it was evident there would not be sufficient funding if OHE decided to award all eligible applicants using all available funds. Thus, OHE elected to spread out the one-time funds over 3 years as opposed to awarding as many eligible applicants as possible in the first year. This was in order to fulfill one of the intentions of the program which is to retain teachers who are meeting shortage area requirements.

Of the 1,097 applications selected for further review, 736 applicants have submitted documents to complete their applications. OHE has been able to verify the data on 424 of the applications. Although official awards will not be made until the Notice of Adoption is published, as of January 31, 2017, 298 preliminary awards notices have been sent to applicants. The table below lists the applications selected for further review, review documents received, documents verified, and sent preliminary award notice.
