- Tracy Ahlquist
- Ellen Redshaw

Semi-finalists are among the top 16,000 scorers in the country. Mr. Youngstrom also reported on how our students' 1999 ACT scores compare favorably to national scores (handout was provided).

Professional Development Institute Update by Mike Hiatt

Director Mike Hiatt reported that the P.D.I. will host a Day of Building Leadership on Thursday, October 7th. This project will bring together representatives from most of the schools, arts organizations and educational groups that the Center works with to build leadership skills as well as strengthen this network of practitioners. Workshops will be led by Dr. O'Fallon and Dr. Bob Terry, an internationally recognized leadership consultant.

Mr. Hiatt also reported on his participation in a project called Vision 20/20, which explores what arts education is going to look like in the year 2020 in the context of music education curriculum and teaching.

Research, Assessment & Curriculum (RAC) Update by Pam Paulson

Director Pam Paulson briefed the board on:
- State Collaborative on Assessment of Student Standards (SCASS) -- Minnesota (the Center and the Department of Children, Families & Learning) is a member of this collaborative of 15 states who are working to understand and develop assessments in the arts. Pam just returned from the fall SCASS meeting in Baltimore. Over the last couple of years, SCASS focused on developing and piloting performance assessments in dance, music, theater and visual arts. Some of those tasks were used by ETS to develop the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) assessment, which was given nationwide, in the arts a couple of years ago. This year, in response to state needs, SCASS is beginning to collect examples of assessments in the arts that can be used for large scale assessments, like the Minnesota Accountability tests.

- Arts Best Practice Network -- 1998-99 was the inaugural year of the Arts BPN. Work centered around developing rubrics to score student work. One key accomplishment was the development of the State Scoring Criteria in the Arts, to be used by all teachers in the state to score student work on the Profile of Learning arts standards. Best Practice members gained assessment literacy during the year both through creating the state rubric and rubrics for use with lessons and units they designed. As BPN members, they are expected to share expertise with colleagues in their schools and communities. Last year, Arts BPN members:
  - taught 7,653 students
  - shared best practice ideas for assessment and curriculum with 911 teachers
  - worked with 146 artists inside or outside of their classrooms to share best practices
  - shared best practices with 3,915 community members, including parents
  - presented 43 workshops/sessions at conferences for 2,180 participants

- Annenberg Research team -- The research team is refining the research design being used with Minneapolis Schools in the Arts for Academic Achievement project. Across the country there is little consensus on how to define, teach or measure "arts integration." The Research team is going to assist in this definition by developing a rubric, which identifies the key components of various levels of arts integration to demonstrate what is actually happening in classrooms as teachers infuse the arts throughout the curriculum.

Other Business

Evaluation of Dr. O'Fallon

Board member, Ruth Grendahl passed copies of Dr. O'Fallon's job description and evaluations out to members for his annual review. There are six areas under which board members were asked to rate Dr. O'Fallon's performance. Ms. Grendahl emphasized that members should only rate him based on areas with which they have factual familiarity. It was decided that it would be appropriate to send an evaluation to Lorainne Kruse as well. Members are to have these done in one week, and mailed either to Ruth’s attention, via Kathy Regalado, at the Center, or directly to Ruth’s home.

Ruth Grendahl moved and Ellen Doll seconded to adjourn the meeting. The motion prevailed and the meeting was adjourned at 4:20 p.m.

Re: Request for Funding for pARTner School/Magnet Program 1999/2000

CC: David O'Fallon, Executive Director

Program History
The Magnet Arts Program was initiated in 1989, to develop Magnet Arts Programs which would adapt aspects of the Arts High School program/curriculum to their own settings in each of Minnesota’s congressional districts. The original focus of the program has evolved from adapting the Arts High School curriculum into these Magnet sites to developing individualized programs based on local circumstances and needs, applying Center knowledge and resources to make the arts a fundamental part of education. In the past few years the program has developed a strong professional development component that would serve schools, teachers and administrators in a regional area around each pARTner School. This aspect of the program has broadened the impact of the program to many more students than we have reached in the past. Three metro area schools have been part of the pARTner school program just for this specific purpose of improving and broadening professional development. In addition, all of the non-metro sites have expanded the Professional Development component of their programs. With the adoption of the Minnesota Graduation Rule and Profile of Learning the Professional Development component will continue to grow in the coming year. With the addition of three new sites in St. Paul, Northfield, and Albert Lea we now have representation in all 8 congressional districts for the first time in the history of the program.

A final report including a Program Logic Model and final budget report has been received by each the pARTner schools and is available for review by you or the Board of Directors at your request.

MINNESOTA ARTS & EDUCATION PARTNERSHIP (MA&EP) GRANTS

Presented to the Perpich Center for Arts Education Finance Committee and Board of Directors, For Approval at the September 29, 1999 Meeting

Overview

MA&EP, begun in 1996, is a pilot program seeking to improve student achievement by bringing the arts to the core of the curriculum. MA&EP believes that this can best be accomplished when schools partner with arts organizations, parents, artists, and the community over a multi-year period. Each site in MA&EP receives grant funds, professional development opportunities, technical assistance from the full-time MA&EP director, and opportunities for networking with many others working in a partnership-based approach to improving arts education. The Perpich Center for Arts Education is a partner in the oversight of MA&EP, and acts as fiscal agent for the program.

Each year since 1996, the eleven sites that were originally selected for the program have received a grant to continue their projects (as long as these projects continue to move the MA&EP objectives forward in these sites). The MA&EP director and the MA&EP board review project plans and initially approve the awards. Grant award amounts are based on private funds available to the program.

This year, the seven Minneapolis School District MA&EP site grants are being made directly through the Arts for Academic Achievement program in that district. St. Paul area grants will continue to be made through the Center, and require approval from the PCAE Board.

MA&EP grant funds to these sites will pay for curriculum development, professional development and planning time for teachers and artists, classroom projects that initiate or model an integrated arts approach, and other activities detailed in individual site plans.

Dave is a career visual arts educator having taught in Minnesota for 26 years, most of that time being spent at Staples, MN. He most recently was a teacher at the Minnesota Charter Technology High School in St. Paul. Dave shared with the board some of his background and expertise in arts education. In addition to coordinating activities in visual and media arts education Dave will be responsible for coordinating the MAX program.

Mike reported that the ACE - Theater program under the leadership of Byron Richard and Diane Aldis was off to an excellent start. Both a summer and fall workshop have been held and now staff is following up with site visits.

Mike also reported on an excellent day of leadership training that was held in October for leaders of all of the various PDI programs. It was facilitated by Bob Terry, an internationally known leadership consultant and our own David O'Fallon. It was received extremely well by our various constituencies and on their recommendation we will consider offering a similar program on a fairly regular basis.

Research, Assessment & Curriculum (RAC) Update by Pam Paulson

Director Pam Paulson briefed the board on:
- her participation at the Arts Education Partnership meeting, which focused on the release of a new research compendium, Champions of Change: the Impact of the Arts on Learning, published by AEP and the President's Committee on the Arts and Humanities. She also provided an issue of RESEARCH BRIEF that focused on one of the studies in Champions of Change entitled, "Learning In and Through the Arts.
- the hiring of her research assistant, Debbie Rasmussen, to assist with the work of Research, Assessment & Curriculum by refining and adding to the annotated database of research on the arts in education.
- her work with the Creativity Study conducted with Arts High School and Linwood A+ which was presented at the National Conference of Gifted and Talented.
- she gave an indepth update on the Best Practices Network.

David O'Fallon reported that Ms. Paulson was recently chosen as a recipient of the U.S. Bank Sally Award in Education. This award honors vision, initiative, commitment and education in the arts. She'll receive the award at a special reception and dinner in the recipients' honor on January 19, 2000.

Other Business

Ellen Doll took this opportunity to say goodbye to her fellow board members. She thanked the board and gave seasoned words of encouragement to new board member Alex Boies. Ms. Doll's term expires in January of 2000.

Terry Anderson moved and Alex Boies seconded to adjourn the meeting. The motion prevailed and the meeting was adjourned at 4:20 p.m.

Re: Round 2 PASS Grant Requests

Date: November 1, 1999

Applicant: Partners: Arts and Schools for Students (PASS)

Program Summary and History

In 1991, the leaders of more than 15 Twin Cities' arts organizations came together with a common belief: Repeated exposure to the arts combined with thoughtful education can serve as a positive influence in the lives of adolescents. Out of extended planning meetings came PASS, Partners: Arts and Schools for Students. PASS has been a special program of the Perpich Center for Arts Education since 1997.

The mission of PASS is to make clear the profound influence of the arts on teaching, learning, and living. To this end, PASS creates partnerships among arts organizations and teachers in schools to provide interdisciplinary arts experiences for secondary students as an integral part of their education.

All PASS teachers and artists plan their interdisciplinary curricula and assessments around the following four areas:

1. Creative process and the creation of artwork
2. Use of community arts resources
3. Viewing, discussing, reflecting and thinking critically about the arts
4. Gaining cultural perspectives through the arts

PASS provides monetary support for teachers and artists to attend professional development workshops, transportation/buses to support community learning trips, support for artists, supplies, and tickets to arts events, and professional development.

Total Request: 5,810.00
TO: Perpich Center for Arts Education Board of Directors
FROM: Mary Sundet Jones
       MA&EP Director
DATE: November 3, 1999

Per the recommendation of the Minnesota Arts & Education Partnership (MA&EP) Advisory Board, I am requesting approval of the following grant:

$1,000 in private funds to be granted to Jackson Preparatory Elementary School/St. Paul Public Schools. This grant will allow the grantee to work in partnership with the College of Visual Arts, Leap Forward for Children, and the Science Museum of Minnesota to solidify integrated curricular projects and showcase student work developed through the school's MA&EP program.

The grant proposal was reviewed by the MA&EP Director and Advisory Board.

Grant Time Frame: January 1, 2000 - July 31, 2000
MA&EP Grant Contract

Grantee: Jackson Elementary School/St. Paul Public Schools
360 Colborne
St. Paul, Mn 55104

Fed Tax ID#: 41-0901-311
Start Date: January 1, 2000
End Date: July 31, 2000
Amount: $1,000

Grantee Duties: Grantee participated in the Minnesota Arts & Education Partnership (MA&EP) from 1996-99. As a followup to that program, grantee will work in partnership with College of Visual Arts, Leap Forward for Children, and the Science Museum of Minnesota to solidify integrated curricular projects and showcase student work developed through the MA&EP program.

Contractor is responsible for all financial records directly related to receiving and disbursing grant funds, and for all reports and records as established by the MA&EP board.

Contractor’s activities shall be in accordance with the plans detailed in Attachment A, incorporated by reference herein. The MA&EP board and director will monitor the program during the contract period, and approve final payments pending satisfactory completion of all program requirements.

Terms: $900 released upon encumbrance; $100 upon receipt and approval of final report

Grantee’s Authorized Representative: Patricia A. Harvey, Superintendent
THE PLAN

Given the limited funds, the partnership has decided to pursue the first option listed in Mary Sundet Jones' letter of September 23: to implement selected activities from the original 1999-2000 proposed plan. However, if district funds allow (which they should), we would like to collaborate with J.J. Hill to offer an elementary teacher workshop on schools collaborating with artists and scientists to integrate the arts into the curriculum and the standards. This will be a way for both these schools to show the excellent work they have done to improve their classroom practices by involving other professionals and institutions from the community. It would also prepare SPPS for upcoming elementary staff development and curriculum writing for integrating the arts into the required curriculum and graduation standards.

This year the Frogtown Summit-University Partnership will pursue the calendar project, the butterfly books, a study of artists, ArtWorks, the map project, and creating collections. Active partners will include the College of Visual Arts, Leap Forward, the Science Museum of Minnesota, and Jackson Preparatory Magnet School.

COLLABORATION AND CELEBRATION

The partnership has lacked adequate opportunity to collaborate and celebrate with the community.

The creation of a calendar will provide a chance to:

- showcase student artwork and projects made possible through the MA&EP grant
- involve parents in planning and selling the calendar to the community
- provide an ongoing place to showcase artwork and activities
- involve community members and school by listing both school and Frogtown events
- make money for future partnerships

Cost:  A graphic artist to design the calendar: $500 from this year (1999-2000)
       Printing: $1500 from last year (1998-99)

Assessment:

What percentage of parents were involved in planning and selling the calendar?
How many Frogtown events were listed in the calendar? Did we miss any?
How many calendars did we sell to Jackson families?
How many calendars did we sell in the community?
Did we break even? Could we break even without grant money next year?

Could this be the beginning of a celebratory community collaboration each year?
WHOLE SCHOOL INTEGRATION and CURRICULUM DESIGN AND INTEGRATION

The focus of curriculum and integration will be to continue and expand the successful collaborations of previous years while adding some new ways to integrate several curricular areas with the arts to meet graduation standards.

Kindergarten will continue ArtWorks, sharing their experience and materials with fourth grade, which will add ArtWorks to meet the Inquiry graduation standard by each fourth grader doing a research report on an artist. The CVA students will collaborate by teaching both students and teachers how to critique or compare art works and artists.

The third grade will continue their MAP project and add Indian Art into the third grade social studies/map curriculum.

COST: All in-kind contributions from CVA and from the Minneapolis Institute of Arts. The MIA is providing docents and bussing for all third and fourth graders.

ASSESSMENT: Task assessments written to go with the graduation standards

The fifth and sixth grades will pursue the plan for each child who chooses to create a collection. The Science Museum of Minnesota will provide guidance and instruction, as will older students through the ACES after school program. Collections will be displayed at the SEM Project Fair in the spring.

COST: In kind contributions by the Science Museum and ACES
   Busses to the Science Museum to train students: $200

ASSESSMENT: Task assessments written to go with graduation standards (district to provide training).
   Number of collections at Project Fair
   Number of other schools adopting curriculum after SEM teacher training in Collections

The second grade curriculum will be a collaboration between CVA students and Leap Forward to locate a neighborhood spot which needs beautifying and then to plan and plant a peace garden. Fifth and Sixth grade students who have worked with master gardener Darcy Smith will assist the second graders. The garden will be an implementation of the Family, School, and Community graduation standard: “understand the interaction of location, family, school, and community.”

COST: Plant materials: $300

ASSESSMENT: Task assessments written to go with the graduation standard
   Request by community members for students to work on more community projects

Present: Board Members in attendance were the Chair, Terry Anderson, Alex Boies, Lani Kawamura, James Bowlus, Ellen Palmer, Ruth Grendahl, and by phone, Renee Jenson. Representing the agency were David O’Fallon, Carrie Bachman, Laura McConkey, Bev Devos, Bob Raiolo, Pam Paulson, Mark Youngstrom, Bill Jeter, Michael Hiatt, Dave Beaman, Peggy Piepho, Jim Marshall, Jeanne Iverson and Kathy Regalado.

Terry Anderson’s Welcome and Remarks

The board retreat took place on January 31, 2000 with the Board of Directors for the Perpich Center for Arts Education and was convened at 9:00 a.m. by the board Chair, Terry Anderson at the Center in Golden Valley. A portion of the retreat was set aside as a business meeting later in the day.

Director’s Update by Dr. David O’Fallon

Dr. O’Fallon briefed the board on:

- the new appointees to the board by the Governor. The Governor’s Citizen Advisory Committee on Board/Commission appointments has selected several individuals to fill nearly all of the remaining vacancies on the board. They have also reappointed Renee Jenson. We can expect the paperwork to be done and to have them ready to attend the March board meeting.
- travel. David was invited to be a keynote speaker at the Governor’s conference in Alaska.
- the importance of staying focused on the importance of arts in education, particularly what is the student learning and ways of looking at student work. To do that, we’ve invited a national expert in this area, Mr. Steven Seidel from Harvard, to come present his nationally-acclaimed work in this area.
- the Legislative session. David has been visiting with the Legislators that will be making key decisions affecting our bonding requests. The message has been consistent: our work is important, therefore we need a facility that supports our work. Every legislator has been supportive, as has the Governor’s office.
• MAX granting process. This round was reviewed thoroughly, both by staff and a review committee. MAX will need to be redesigned as a granting program as the arts and educational environment in the state has changed.

Programs and Projects
Arts High School Report by Mark Youngstrom

Mark Youngstrom, Director of School Programs, introduced the following staff who provided the board with detailed information from their respective areas.

Carrie Bachman, Counseling and Records Coordinator, provided the board a handout with data about the 1999 graduates. It detailed how many students applied, and were accepted into post secondary institutions. Of note is the fact that as of January 15, 2000, 137 colleges send us updated application information. Ms. Bachman reported that our reputation is building steadily with colleges as more of our students matriculate.

Bev Devos, the Admissions Director for the Arts High School, presented an overview of the admissions process to the Board, and provided a handout detailing the timeline for the application process. Ms. Devos presented the newly approved admissions rule that broadens the criteria on which admission is determined.

Bill Jeter, a Visual Arts Instructor for the Arts High School, brought in several pieces of student work to discuss the focus and importance of looking at student work. Mr. Jeter emphasized how their work evolves and is informed by the foundation provided by a full curriculum.

Research, Assessment & Curriculum (RAC) Report by Pam Paulson

Director Pam Paulson briefed the board on the Center's Research, Assessment & Curriculum (RAC) Department. Dr. Paulson described the department which helps teachers and artists implement, effective research-based practices to improve teaching and learning. This highly complex work includes areas such as standards, assessments, curriculum, instruction, research, best practices, accountability, professional inquiry and collaborations.
Looking at student work: The interrelationships, adventures and obstacles on the road to school improvement were depicted through a drawing done by elementary students on the topic of school reform. Looking at student work keeps the focus on the students' knowledge and skills and is proving to be at the center of transforming teaching and learning.

- Statewide Networks: The Center collaborates with the Department of Children, Families & Learning (CFL) to extend the network of informed teachers who are implementing best practices in their schools. These resources include coordinators, who are increasingly accessing the expertise of Center staff; Instructional Support Team members, who are teachers on special assignment to coach their peers; Learning Area Support Teams, which assist in particular content areas; and the Best Practice Networks. The Center has been doing many workshops and conferences in collaboration with this statewide network of resources.

- Summer Arts Academies: This summer RAC in collaboration with CFL, will conduct 4, two-day arts academies in different regions of the state to assist teachers with content expertise in the arts as well as best practices in teaching and learning.

- Minnesota Arts Best Practice Network: Teachers and artists in the Arts Best Practice Network are examining teaching and learning in their classrooms with an eye to what can be changed to improve student achievement. The new RAC newsletter on "Best Practices in Teaching and Learning," highlights many of these important issues. Best Practice members are responsible for sharing their expertise with colleagues in their regions across the state.

- Arts Education Research Grants: Guidelines for 2000-2001 are now available. This program encourages teachers and artists to identify an important question to research. They use their new information to improve their teaching and are sharing their findings at state meetings and workshops.

- Research: Important research is being conducted through the Arts for Academic Achievement (AAA) initiative with the Minneapolis Public Schools and University of Minnesota. Preliminary findings from the teacher survey indicates that teachers think integrating the arts into their classes is an important strategy for both motivating students and increasing student motivation and interest. On the other hand they do not think they have enough knowledge or skill yet to provide this type of learning for students. Teachers and artists would like more time and opportunity for professional growth in the arts. RAC is working with AAA to develop ways to share the research and effective strategies for learning in and through the arts more widely.
Professional Development Institute Report by Mike Hiatt

Mike Hiatt, Director of P.D.I. gave the board an overview of what P.D.I. has been working on for the past year, including:

- focusing on strengthening and growing the network
- teachers, school administrators and artists working on bringing the arts to every child in our schools in the state of Minnesota.

Mr. Hiatt highlighted the importance of the networking component and its key goals, including:

- the technical/professional services to schools having outreach from all of our staff
- the ACE theatre program, which provides professional development for schools and teachers, learning better how to use drama and theatre education in curriculum.
- the Education Initiative, which is a similar format as the ACE program, but using dance

MAX grants that provide extended opportunities for teachers to get professional development not only from the Center, but also various programs that we grant money to, that's targeted for professional development.

Learning Resource Center Report by Jim Marshall and Jeanne Iverson

Jim Marshall, director of the LRC provided data about membership in the LRC, which is statewide. Mr. Marshall also presented an overview of our web page and its features. Jeanne Iverson, the Center's librarian, provided the Board with a brochure detailing services the LRC provides.

Marketing and Recruitment Report by Laura McConkey

Laura McConkey, Information Officer for the Center provided the board a detailed report of the 1999-2000 Marketing Plan and described how it was being implemented. Ms. McConkey also detailed the results of marketing research that was done for the Center. As well, she reported on the status of the database as being ready to do targeted mailings, which will be helpful for future fundraising efforts.
Business Meeting Portion of the Retreat

The portion of the retreat set aside for business was convened at 12:30 p.m. on January 31st, 2000, by Terry Anderson, Chair.

Terry entertained a motion to approve the minutes from the last meeting. The motion was seconded, prevailed and the minutes were approved.

Approval of MAX 2000 Grants

Having thoroughly reviewed the application for the fiscal year 2000 round of MAX applications, the review committee consisting of Julie Nash and Renee Jenson recommended the following grant allocations.

Approval of the Grant to Chisholm

The Center posted a request for proposals statewide and implemented an RFP process according to state guidelines. One proposal was received from the Chisholm School District. A review committee consisting of David O'Fallon, Michael Hiatt, Terry Anderson, Ruth Grendahl and Ellen Palmer thoroughly reviewed the proposal and recommended an award of up to $25,000, provided that staff will put specific benchmarks in the contract with Chisholm as follows:

A. Appropriate use of consultants
B. Timeline and clear reports at each phase (e.g. a date certain for the establishment of a facility plan, date certain for a curriculum outline and date certain for determination of the number of students and staff needed and subsequent budget).
C. Determination of leadership in Chisholm.

The recommendation included that the funds be released as follows:

1. $15,000 upon signing of contract.
2. $7,000 on completion of certain benchmarks.
3. $3,000 upon completion of final reports and products.

The contract dates will run one full year from the start of the contract and will be renewable one time contingent upon board approval.

Action: Ellen Palmer moved that the funding for the Chisholm Grant for a Whole School/New School be passed as recommended by the review committee. Ruth Grendahl seconded the motion. The motion prevailed and the funding was granted.

Total funding for Chisholm approved: $25,000.00

TOTAL FUNDING APPROVED: $239,600.00
It was moved and seconded to adjourn the business portion of the board retreat. The motion prevailed and the meeting was adjourned at 12:30 p.m. The retreat concluded with a luncheon with a parent representative.

Terry Anderson’s Welcome and Remarks

The meeting of March 22, 2000 of the Board of Directors for the Perpich Center for Arts Education was convened at 3:00 by the board Chair, Terry Anderson at the Center in Golden Valley. With the addition of four new board members, introductions were made.

Terry entertained a motion to approve the minutes from the last meeting. Ruth Grendahl seconded. The motion prevailed and the minutes were approved.

Terry Anderson nominated a slate of interim officers for positions that will run until October. The rationale being to facilitate a smooth transition as terms expire and remaining vacancies are filled by the Ventura Administration. The proposed slate is as follows:

James Bowlus moved the slate of officers be approved and officiated until October 2000. Marjorie Savage seconded the motion. The motion prevailed and the slate was officiated.
Executive Director's Report by Dr. David O’Fallon

Dr. O’Fallon briefed the board on:

- board appointment. David welcomed the new board members and encouraged them to visit the Center often and to get involved. We will have another 1/2 day board retreat in October, in the hopes that our remaining appointments will be completed at that time.

- the Legislature. We’ve garnered significant support from our tri-partisan government. David credited this largely with the groundwork laid by deputy director, Barbara Martin. He informed the board that this year’s bonding requests are earmarked toward asset preservation. We’re also preparing for next year’s session when the Center will basically be asked to justify its existence. We’re also keeping our eye on the Profile of Learning discussions and decisions this Session. David reiterated to the Board that our position on the Profile of Learning is that teaching and learning is our focus.

- the 2000-2001 admissions process, which is nearly completed. While the good news is that the numbers of applicants were approximately the same as last year, the not-so-good news is that the numbers of applicants from both greater Minnesota and communities of color are relatively low. David also briefed the board on steps that the Center is taking to remedy this issue, such as initiating meetings with the State minority Councils and the convening of a small working group to look at outreach in admissions practices.

- on the remodeling underway. With the West Wing completed, the renovations of the East Wing are in full swing.

- the partnership between Arts for Academic Achievement: the Annenberg Challenge and the Minneapolis Public Schools. The AAA/MPS released their March 2000 report, entitled, “A Report to the Community.” David distributed copies to board members.

- impending travel. David was asked to participate in an advisory capacity for a project of the National Endowment for the Arts: The Endowment will bring him to DC the last week in March.

Finance Committee Update by Renee Jenson, Finance Chair

Board member and newly-elected Finance Committee Chair, Renee Jenson recommended that the Board approve the recommendations for the following requests:

1. Agency Budget Review (amount not applicable)
Action: Renee Jenson moved and Ruth Grendahl seconded; the motion prevailed and the funding was approved.

2. Grant to the Minneapolis Public Schools for Urban Retreat $12,000
Action: Renee Jenson moved and Ellen Palmer seconded; the motion prevailed and the funding was approved.

13. MAX funding for U of MN Arts Infused workshop $18,039
Action: Renee Jenson moved and James Bowlus seconded; the motion prevailed and the funding was approved.

Total Funding Approved: $30,039

Proposed Resolution - Barbara Martin

Barbara Martin, Deputy Director of the Center, provided background on the capital master planning process that has been underway since 1995. One of the issues to emerge during that process was the need to develop a master water management plan because of the Center’s location in the Bassett Creek Watershed District and the role the campus pond plays in handling storm water runoff and water quality as water moves from Golden Valley into Minneapolis City lakes.

As the comprehensive water management plan developed, the Center’s consulting civil engineer, Jim Jacques of Houston Engineering, Inc., suggested that the Center voluntarily undertake the assembly of an Environmental Assessment Worksheet to determine if future master plan construction would necessitate the development of a full-fledged Environmental Impact Statement. Mr. Jacques managed this process on behalf of the Center. Public notices were published and comments were solicited. Golden Valley officials and representatives of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources were the only two parties who responded. Both responders indicated that future impact was likely to be insignificant with the Center’s implementation of its long-term water management plan as future construction proceeded.

Mr. Jacques presented the proposed Findings of Fact to the Board for its approval and responded to Members’ questions about the process.

Ellen Palmer moved approval of the resolution. Renee Jenson seconded; the motion prevailed and the resolution was approved.
Arts High School Update by Mark Youngstrom

Mark Youngstrom, Director of School Programs updated the Board on:

Professional Development Institute Update by Michael Hiatt

Michael Hiatt, Director of the Professional Development Institute reported that:

- the big move is finally complete. The staff of P.D.I. and R.A.C. (Research, Assessment & Curriculum) have moved to the GAIA building, as of February 28, 2000. He also reported there has been strong interest from the arts education community to utilize the building for meetings and workshops, with the April schedule almost full at this point.
- the Minnesota Music Educators Association State Conference, was held in Minneapolis in February and the Center was well represented. Pam Paulson, RAC director presented a workshop on the Best Practices Network. The Center sponsored Susan Farrell, an educational consultant from Canada, who presented several sessions on educational assessment. Mike Hiatt presented information on the National Assessment of Educational Progress-Arts Report Card. Debra Hunt, CAPP Coordinator, presented a session on getting the CAPP program into your community, and Chris Granias (music teacher at the Center) and Michael Hiatt participated in a presentation on the composers/teachers mentoring project which was co-sponsored by the Center and the American Composers Forum.
- a video teleconference on using the Arts for students with special needs was held in February. The Center, in collaboration with VSA. arts of Minnesota, Technical, Informational and Educational Services (TIES) and the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning (DCFL) were sponsors. Four different broadcast sites around the state were used and they included Plymouth, Thief River Falls, St. Cloud, and New Ulm. Over 60 educators, artists, and administrators participated.

Report from the Artist & Educator Institute by Diane Aldis

Diane Aldis, AEI Coordinator, briefed the Board on the background and purpose of the Artist & Educator Institute. Diane provided board members with a detailed report on several projects that came from the 1999 Artist & Educator Institute, such as the Global Initiatives in Art Education dialogues and the Young Artists Speak Out Against Violence initiative.

Other Business

New board members were reminded to sign and turn in their per diem forms, and any original receipts.

It was moved and seconded to adjourn the meeting. The motion prevailed and the meeting was adjourned at 4:00 p.m.
Urban Retreat Request
Action to be taken by the board on March 22, 2000

Background:
The Perpich Center for Arts Education Board of Directors is asked to approve a grant in the amount of $12,000 to Minneapolis Public Schools, to offer professional development for teachers and artists by producing An Urban Retreat for the Arts, June 14-16, 2000. MPS will support attendance by providing stipends to attendees, and develop sessions that focus on integrated arts curricula that embeds Minnesota standards, planned and taught collaboratively.

Urban Retreat information:
Approximately 300 teachers, artists, and community members will attend this second annual Urban Retreat for the Arts. The conference is designed for individuals associated with the MA&EP, PASS, and Annenberg teams which collectively serve four school districts, and Minneapolis Fine Arts teachers. Materials and sessions developed for this conference will be used in subsequent PCAE professional development activities statewide.

PCAE uses the materials, information, and contacts developed through this project to inform it's work across the state, with schools and arts organizations.

Funds for this grant are provided by:
$7,500 private funds from Kraft Foods, Inc., to support Minnesota Arts & Education Partnership (MA&EP) in its work with Minneapolis and St. Paul school districts to bring teachers and artists together to learn about integrating arts into the curriculum.

$4,500 funds from the Department of Children, Families, and Learning (through PCAE's Professional Development Institute) to support professional development that assists teachers working with the Minnesota state standards.

Re: Proposed MAX funding for U of MN Arts Infused workshop

cc: Barbara Martin, Deputy Executive Director

I am requesting Board approval of a proposal for Grant funding in the amount of $18,039.00 for the University of Minnesota Arts Infused Summer Institute. There will be 2 workshops offered through this grant. The first workshop will be a one day workshop held in Rochester on May 6, 2000 and will target teachers and schools in the southeast part of the state. It will be an introductory workshop but will utilize the same principles of arts infused instruction that will be used in the second workshop, a 5 day workshop to be held on the Univ. of MN Mpls. campus July 31, 2000 through August 4, 2000. The planning team anticipates a targeted audience of 120 teachers, both classroom teachers and arts specialists from throughout the state but especially from Southeastern MN. The secondary impact into the classroom would potentially impact 3600 students in year one alone.

This grant proposal was not presented to the board in January because we were working closely with the University of MN to expand their proposal to include a stronger presence in greater Minnesota. In reviewing their proposal we have found that they have indeed met that goal. This proposal has been read and reviewed in the same manner that all other MAX proposals were reviewed. It was evaluated by 2 internal PCAE staff as well as an external reader. From the PCAE staff readers were Dave Beaman and Michael Hiatt and the external reader was Douglas Miller, a teacher from Monticello and President of the Minnesota Music Educators Association. All 3 proposal readers indicated a strong support to fund the proposal based on the MAX review criteria. Those reviews coupled with the group's excellent history of success in the previous 4 years of offering arts infused workshops for teachers brings me to request full funding for this project.
I. Project Goals

The principal goal of the Institute is to help equip educators, kindergarten to 8th grade, to infuse the arts across the curriculum. To realize this goal, the institute will:

- Provide a framework for interdisciplinary arts infusion – a foundation of the theory and some elements of a philosophy.
- Tell practical stories from the real world of schools, teaching and learning.
- Explore and gain insights into how partnerships and programs grow from the school’s community, how such partnerships are individual and unique to a school and how partnerships might assist educators in arts infusion practices.
- Consider the questions “What are the benefits of arts infusion for children?” and “What do the arts reveal about the students that you didn’t know before?”
- Provide some personal involvement with the arts.

In addition, a one day event in South Eastern Minnesota will help to nurture efforts in that district to build a network of organizations and people interested in expanding the role of arts education.

II. History of the Arts-Infused Teaching and Learning Institute

In 1995, Cheryl Paschke from Minneapolis and Joanna Cortright from Saint Paul, submitted a MAX grant in partnership with the College of Liberal Arts, University of Minnesota, represented by Professor Claire McCoy and Tom Trow. Their goal was to provide an in-depth staff development opportunity for educators already a part of an A+ school, as well as those considering the A+ model. The first program, in summer of 1996, included a one day session at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts (which drew over 100 educators, administrators, parents, artists and arts education representatives), and a five day in-depth workshop for school teams. Over the next three summers, the five-day program was developed and refined. Over its four-year history, it has served more than 200 educators, administrators and artists from nine school districts.
III. Brief Description of the Summer 2000 Arts Infused Teaching and Learning Institute

The plan for summer 2000 includes two key components:

1. On May 6, 2000, the Institute will present a one-day event in South Eastern Minnesota at University Center, Rochester, Minnesota. This "community conversation" and workshop replicates the model used the first year of the Institute. It provides an opportunity to bring together community resources for the purpose of fostering and nurturing arts education in the region. The district includes several larger communities such as Rochester, Winona, Wabasha, and Northfield, as well as smaller communities and school districts.

The one day event would include a keynote speaker, short session on arts infusion and interdisciplinary theory, a panel of teachers and artists sharing stories "From the Real World of School," an intriguing luncheon speaker, Arts Breaks with regional artists, and opportunities for participants to meet, mingle and network. Specific planning for the event will be in the hands of a planning committee made up of South Eastern Minnesota residents and Institute staff.

The College of Liberal Arts, University of Minnesota would fund the major activities for the day in Rochester.

2. The second component of the Arts Infused Teaching and Learning Institute is the five day, in-depth program on the Twin Cities campus the week of July 31st. This summer 2000 program is similar in scope to prior workshops with a closer relationship to two school models of arts infusion.

- Jefferson Middle School, Saint Cloud, Minnesota
- Linwood A+ Elementary, St. Paul, Minnesota

To expand the school districts served beyond the Twin Cities and suburbs, two Greater Minnesota teams will receive support for travel and housing to facilitate attendance. Teams will be sought from communities involved with CAPP and other arts education initiatives.

The five day program would be funded by the Perpich Center for Arts Education and the College of Liberal Arts, University of Minnesota. This will require more communication with school districts outside the Metro area.

The planning team for the five day program includes
• Cheryl Paschke, Fine Arts Coordinator, Minneapolis Public Schools
• Jan Louise Kusske, Arts Coordinator, Saint Paul Public Schools
• Mary Sundet Jones, Director, Minnesota Arts and Education Partnership
• Claire McCoy, University of Minnesota School of Music
• Jan Erickson, University of Minnesota Summer Session
• Tom Trow, University of Minnesota College of Liberal Arts
• Joanna Cortright, community arts consultant

BOARD MINUTES
LOLA AND RUDY PERPICH MINNESOTA CENTER FOR ARTS EDUCATION
May 24, 2000

Present: Board Members present were Ruth Grendahl, Ellen Pamer, Renee Jenson, Geol Leonard Weirs, Jeb Bowlus, Marjorie Savage, John Kim, Patricia Anderson and Alex Boies. Jay Andersen and Terry Anderson were excused. Representing the agency were David O’Fallon, Michael Hiatt, Pam Paulson, Barbara Martin, Bob Raiolo and Kathy Regalado.

Board Chair Ruth Grendahl’s Welcome and Remarks

The meeting of May 24, 2000 of the Board of Directors for the Perpich Center for Arts Education was convened at 3:00 by the board Chair, Ruth Grendahl at the Center in Golden Valley.

Ruth entertained a motion to approve the minutes from the last meeting. Ellen Palmer moved and Marjorie Savage seconded. The motion prevailed and the minutes were approved.

Executive Director’s Update by Dr. David O’Fallon

Dr. O’Fallon briefed the board on:
• the experience and issues surrounding the loss of one of our students, Tony Basta. David emphasized the ways in which creativity and the arts discipline was a catalyst for dealing with this senseless tragedy. He honored the exceptional work of Mark Youngstrom, Kathleen McCartin and the staff and faculty.
• travel. David and Diane Aldis, coordinator of the Artist & Educator Institute spent time at Bemidji State University earlier in the month to discuss and present the value of the arts in education to area educational leaders. Relationships were begun, and David reported the potential for many positive and valuable collaboratives in the future.
• the results of the Legislature. The 2000 session was relatively successful for us. The Center received $1.2 million for dorm upgrades. The 2001 session will review our entire operating budget. This work will begin in the summer. David also reported that no calls have yet come from the senate committee to confirm our new boardmembers.
• The Arts High School graduation will occur this Friday, May 26th, 2000. Boardmembers were encouraged to attend, and Ellen Palmer, vice chair, will say a few words at the ceremony.
Staff changes. After being with the Center since its inception, Kathleen McCartin will be leaving; her husband’s accepted a position in New Jersey. Kathleen’s spirit and hard work has paved the way not only for countless AHS students to go on to higher education, but also for post-secondary institutions to anticipate applicants from our school.

Student affairs. David reported that a probable student expulsion was impending. An investigation is currently underway, and once a hearing is held in conjunction with the Attorney General’s office, then a quorum of the board must convene to approve the expulsion.

Residential Fee Recommendation by Barbara Martin, Deputy Director

Barbara Martin brought a proposal to the board to raise the residential fee from $1,600 for the school year 00-01 to $1,800. This is the part of a previously recommended two-phase increase that will result in lunch costs for residential students being absorbed as part of the residential fee in school year 00-01.

Action: Ellen Palmer moved that the residential fee be increased, per the proposal. Marjorie Savage seconded; the motion prevailed and the funding was approved.

Research, Assessment & Curriculum (RAC) Update by Pam Paulson

Director Pam Paulson briefed the board on:

- the Arts Education Research Grants. In their third year, the grants support teachers and artists who want to pursue investigations of questions to inform their work in arts education. Dr. Paulson provided the board with a memo detailing the process undergone to choose the recommended recipients of these grants.
- the Best Practices Network. Dr. Paulson provided handouts to the board highlighting research questions pursued by educators in their teaching situations during the course of this year. The questions illustrate the range of interests and topics educators and artists are delving into in their inquiry to become better teachers.
- PDI/RAC Updates which are distributed monthly to all Center staff to inform them of statewide programs and services.
- the Research Brief for May/June, which is regular briefing on new research studies impacting the fields of education and the arts.
the Summer Arts Academies being planning for this summer in four locations around the state.

Finance Committee Update by Renee Jenson, Finance Chair

Ms. Jenson offered that these funding requests were presented to and discussed in the Finance committee and that they come to the board with a full recommendation for approval.

Request for funding for

1. AERG: Dance Initiative $3,425.00
   Action: Renee Jenson moved and Ellen Palmer seconded; the motion prevailed and the funding was approved.

2. AERG: Art Journey $4,000.00
   Action: Renee Jenson moved and Geol L. Weirs seconded; the motion prevailed and the funding was approved.

Total Funding Approved: $7,425.00

Professional Development Institute Update by Mike Hiatt

Director Mike Hiatt welcomed the board to the Glass Box meeting space of the Gaia building. Mr. Hiatt reported:

- that since its renovation, approximately 600 people have met here, and that the space should attract many groups.
- on the success of the standards development and task writing workshops in collaboration with the Minneapolis Public Schools.
- on the annual spring meeting of the 11 pARTner schools. Mary Sundet Jones and Barbara Cox facilitated a discussion by which the schools were able to share the products of their year-long success as well as engage in discussions about broadening and deepening partnerships within their communities.
- a West Metro Art Educators of Minnesota meeting that was hosted by PDI’s own Dave Beaman, Visual & Media Arts Education Coordinator. This meeting allowed the Center to connect these visual arts education leaders to the many resources our LRC has to offer.
- on upcoming PDI events, such as the Urban Retreat for the Arts (June 14-16), the Artist & Educator Institute (June 19-23), the Art & Technology for Educators (June 19-23), the Arts, Education & Student Achievement (July 10-11), Art & Technology for Educators (July 31-August 4) and the ACE-Theater Summer Workshop (August 7-9). Board members were encouraged to attend any and all of these events.

SUBJECT: Arts Education Research Grant (AERG) Review Panel Recommendations

PROGRAM HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION:
The Arts Education Research Grant program (AERG) at the Perpich Center for Arts Education is in its third year. The program is designed to support an increasing commitment to initiate and conduct research in arts education in the state of Minnesota. Grants up to a maximum of $4,000.00 are available. With the implementation of Graduation Standards in the Arts, and with increasing emphasis on assessment of student learning and achievement in the arts, the territory for research in arts education is expanding dramatically. For these reasons, the AERG is an important program to grow and develop over the next few years.

This program is more than a funding opportunity. Individuals involved in research projects selected for inclusion receive both financial support and professional consultation in research methods over a one-year period. Projects in all six arts areas (dance, literary arts, media arts, music, theater and visual arts), as well as interdisciplinary learning, are valued.

All applicants have been asked to center their research around one of three broad areas of arts education research based on the following questions:

1. How does arts education influence student achievement across content areas?
2. How does using various forms of assessment influence student learning in the arts?
3. How are National/State Standards influencing arts education?

Application forms were sent to former Professional Opportunity Program (POP) grant recipients, Arts Best Practice Network members, pARTner schools and Arts Departments, as well as Education Departments in institutions of higher education. Six applications were received.

A panel of three grant readers was assembled, consisting of one board member, a person from the research community and an arts practitioner. Grant applications were evaluated, rated and ranked. The review panel is recommending two of the proposals for funding.

Recommendations are based on the following criteria:
* The significance of the research question posed
* The relevance of the research to arts education in Minnesota
* The feasibility of the proposal relative to time, budget, and design
* The effectiveness of the dissemination plan
Budget:
The review panel recommends proposals from the following applicants be approved:

Gretchen Pick and Elizabeth Hagerdorn
Project Title: Flexible Bodies, Flexible Minds: The Impact of Dance on Student Achievement in Mathematics
Art Area: Dance/Interdisciplinary
Research Question: How does the Dance/Math curriculum developed at Whittier Community School for the Arts impact student achievement in math?
Summary: This study will determine the impact of the dance/math curriculum on student achievement in math using three types of data: evaluations of student work in the dance/math lessons; comparisons between students’ evaluations in dance/math with their work in math; and comparisons between the math work of students in dance/math classes with the math work of students not in dance/math classes.
Location: Whittier Community School for the Arts, Minneapolis $3,425.00

Joanne Toft and Jessica Hansen
Project Title: Art Journeys: Integrating Visual Arts in the Elementary Classroom to enhance Language Arts Skills
Art Area: Visual Arts/Interdisciplinary
Research Question: Does the integration of visual arts into the elementary classroom increase reading comprehension and writing content and expression?
Summary: Study will investigate whether integrating visual arts in the classroom helps elementary children increase reading comprehension and develop writing content and expression. Students in two rooms will participate in the Art Journeys Program; they will experience visual arts in a variety of ways, including museum visits, working with visual artists, and producing their own work. There will be two control group classrooms. Reading growth will be assessed and writing samples collected three times throughout the year in both groups.
Location: Marcy Open School, Minneapolis $4,000.00

Total: $7,425.00

Arts Education Research Grants

Background

This is the third year of the Arts Education Research Grants (AERG). The grants are intended to support teachers and artists who want to pursue investigations of questions that inform their work in arts education. It is expected that the review committee will recommend two new grants to be funded for the upcoming year. Grant amounts are up to $4,000 per study. The review committee will meet on the afternoon of May 11, 2000.

Action

The Finance Committee will make a recommendation for the proposals to the full board on May 24, 2000. Due to the timing of the review process, the grant proposals cannot be mailed to board members in advance of the meeting.
Residential Fee Recommendation

Background:

In the spring of 1999, the board raised the residential fee from $1,450 for school year 1999-2000 to $1,600. This was the first part of a recommended two-phase increase that would ultimately result in lunch costs for residential students being absorbed as part of the residential fee in school year 2000-2001. Student services staff are now recommending the second phase of the increase: from $1,600 to $1,800.

Currently, residential students, as do commuter students, pay cash for lunch. Many students maintain standing cafeteria accounts which they draw down when making lunch purchases. One of the chronic problems we have experienced with this system is that students often deplete their accounts and forget to remind their parents to replenish the account or the parents experience some delays in forwarding the cash. While we do allow students to overdraw their accounts a small amount ($13.50), this situation does sometimes result in students going hungry. It also causes some administrative record-keeping issues for the cafeteria and accounting staff. The inclusion of lunch as part of the residential fee would help alleviate this sometimes difficult and awkward situation for both students and staff.
